THE BLUE AND THE GRAY.

"The women of Columbia, Miss.—type, estimated by nobler sentiments than is many of their sisters, have shown themselves industrious in their offerings made to the memory of the dead. They strewed flowers alike on the graves of the Confederate and of the National soldiers."—New York Tribune.

By the flow of the inland river,
Whence the fleets of iron have fled,
Where the blades of the grave-grass quiver,
Asleep are the ranks of the dead:—
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day:—
Under the one, the Blue!
Under the other, the Gray.

These in the robings of glory,
Those in the gloom of defeat,
All with the battle-blood gory,
In the dusk of eternity meet:—
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day:—
Under the laurel, the Blue;
Under the willow, the Gray.

From the silence of sorrowful hours
The desolate mourners go,
Lovingly laden with flowers
Alike for the friend and the foe:—
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day:—
Under the roses, the Blue,
Under the lilies, the Gray.

So with an equal splendor
The morning sun-rays fall,
With a touch impartially tender,
On the blossoms blooming for all:
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day:
Broidered with gold, the Blue;
Mellowed with gold, the Gray.

So, when the Summer calleth,
On forest and field of grain,
With an equal murmur falleth
The cooling drip of the rain:
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day:
Wet with the rain, the Blue;
Wet with the rain, the Gray.

Sadly, but not with upbraiding,
The generous deed was done;
In the storm of years that are fading,
No braver battle was won;
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day:—
Under the blossoms, the Blue;
Under the garlands, the Gray.

No more shall the war-cry sever,
Or the winding rivers be red;
They banish our anger forever
When they laurel the graves of our dead!
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Love and tears for the Blue,
Tears and love for the Gray.

—Atlantic Monthly.

Matters Matrimonial.

"Father, where is our Jamie to-night—
Jamie so bold and so gay?
The twilight shadows are falling now
Why does he stay away?
Jamie is handsome and manly too,
But, father, why is our darling boy
A-staying away so late?"

"Our noble boy is a child no more,
He has grown to man's estate;
He has gone a-courting Minnie Gray,
The reason he stays so late;
For her golden hair and eyes of blue,
Have stolen his heart away,
And he goes in the holy twilight hour
A-wooing sweet Minnie Gray."

"Why does the maiden lure him away,
Now we are growing so old?
And we have shielded him all his life,
Our love has never grown cold;
The maiden can never love as we
Have loved him all his years,
Who have led him o'er the path of life,
Sharing his smiles and tears."

"But, Millie, remember long years ago,
When I was handsome and gay,
And you a maiden, coy and sweet,
That you stole my heart away.
I had a father old and true,
And a mother kind and true,
Who loved me fondly; my life—
But my heart went with you."

A blush crept over her withered cheek,
Her eyes shine clear and mild,
No longer she chided lovely maid
For winning away his child;
She thought of the longo, when she
Stood close to her lover's side
In the little church, and the man of God
Made her a happy bride.

The Pennsylvan Election.

Although the only office of general importance to be filled in the coming election in Pennsylvania is that of Judge of the Supreme Court of the State, it must not be inferred by the friends of the Republic there that that election is without interest to the nation. Far from it. In view of the peculiar dangers which stare us in the face, there has never been a more important or interesting election. We sincerely hope that the President of the United States, with the advice and by the counsel of wise men, marked out for himself an evil end, which he intends to pursue; that he, in fact, already entered upon it; that it even trying to salve such smarts of conscience as he may be supposed to feel in following this path by whispering to himself this official oath does not bind him to the execution of any law except it be "pursuant to the Constitution, of which "pursuance is the self-constituted judge. If the mass of the Republicans of California in will throwing away their power and prestige that State has been taken by him as an excuse to pursue that course of sin, what, what would be the thunder-voice of the Keystone State, if she too should fall away in this dread crisis of the nation! Let not Republican party of Pennsylvania be dead. Let us all look the fact in the face: if that great State shall give a majority sham Democracy in the October election she will give her vote to a President led by the rebellion in 1863, for it will taken as an endorsement of the Pres's policy, and stimulate him to such vigilance that the whole State will be made, like dried ear of Dyonysius, a whispering gallery for Executive spies. Throughout all mountains and valleys such office-holders will be disseminated as will act as our satraps, and only such as subscribe to distorted "proclamations" and mouth Hibbin shibboleths can exist. A majority for Mr. Sharswood will be as much the act of the State as though there were a hundred officers to be chosen. Let not the Republican Union party, who have made the glory of the State immortal, who from their homes and firesides gave a quarter million willing, brave souls to the bloody baptism of the patriot war, look back now, even for one moment, toward that City of Destruction from which they helped to rescue the Government bequeathed us by our fathers.

The spite of the rebels is now concentrated in one breast. Rebellion no longer rears its bloody crest on the battle-field, but in the Executive council, and it must be met and crushed there by the ballot-box.

Happily for our cause, our friends in Pennsylvania have a noble standard-bearer in the conflict. Hon. Henry W. Williams has been long an ornament to the bar and the bench of the city of Pittsburgh, and the county of which it is the centre. For more than a quarter of a century he has in that moral, industrious and patriotic community, which is the pride of Pennsylvania, and which also gave Edwin M. Stanton to the nation, illustrated in his life all the virtues of the Christian and the patriot. There was never a doubt as to his position on the great questions of the war. There stands on the record no decision of his as a judge, and no action of his as a citizen, which can be possibly construed into a discouragement or an obstruction to our holy war against slavery and for the nation's life. His learning will lend a lustre to the bench to which we hope to see him elevated; his experience as judge of a district court for so many years will inspire confidence in the community at large; his whole life is a guarantee of unsullied purity and devotion to the side of justice.

Work, then, friends of the great Keystone State, and of the Republic, for the man and for the great cause he worthily represents, lest after so many years of struggle and sacrifice you be found at last yielding to the enemy in the Cabinet what with fire and sword he was unable to wrest from you in the field.—Wash. Chronicle.

DANIEL AND EZEKIEL WEBSTER.—A Boscawen farmer came many years ago into the office of the Statesman, and illustrated the difference between the economic habits of the brothers Webster in the following way:

"Ezekiel," he said, "having a cord of wood at his office door, would say to a laboring man, Mr. Jones, there is a cord of wood, to be sawed twice, split, and carried up stairs. What will you do it for? 'One dollar,' replies Jones. But, my dear man, you can complete the job by the middle of the afternoon, and you do not pretend to ask more than a dollar a day. Daniel—Jones, come and get the wood.

"Daniel," he continued, "having a cord of wood to be served in the same way, says: 'I wish you would properly prepare that wood for my stove, and take it up stairs.' When the work is done, the laborer is asked what is to pay, and he says, 'One dollar, sir,' 'One dollar!' says Mr. Webster, 'why man, you can't afford to work as cheap as that; here is a dollar and a half, and call again when you see wood at my office door."—N. H. Statesman.

THE REVOLUTIONARY PROGRAMME.

The question raised by the President's proclamation of the 3d inst, which has been sent to all employees of the Government, under Executive order addressed to the heads of departments, is one of the most vitally important that can arise out of our complex and peculiar system of government, and one which there is reason to apprehend has not been studied with adequate care. That proclamation is based upon an exaggerated estimate of Executive power under the Constitution, which, if insisted upon, cannot fail eventually to overthrow the legislative branch of the Government and establish an absolute despotism. It is issued as a preliminary measure antecedent to the autumn election, and if they shall prove favorable to Democratic ascendancy, will be followed by startling and despotic usurpation. When the President, in his speeches before the election last year, denounced Congress as "an illegal body, hanging upon the verge of the Government, calling itself a Congress, but which was only a Congress of part of the States," when he shamed his office and proclaimed his own baseness by the declaration that he could have made himself dictator, when he called upon the people of Cleveland to hang Thad Stevens and Wendell Phillips; when he promised the citizens of Pittsburgh that if they sustained the Radical Congress they should have another civil war and a monarchy; when his prime minister asked the people of Michigan, in his consenting presence, "whether they would have Andrew Johnson for President or king," the country was startled by the manifest purpose of these declarations. The people were alarmed; they saw that the Government had fallen into the hands of a lawless and ambitious man, who was wicked enough to accomplish his purpose by the foulest means. They averted the danger at the ballot-box by overwhelming Radical majorities, and thereby placed it in the power of Congress, and made it the duty of Congress, to remove the dangerous Executive by impeachment under the Constitution.

Instead of pursuing this necessary course, Congress allowed itself to be drawn into conciliatory measures, wherein the baseness of some men and the ambition of others contributed to the perpetuation of a bad President's power. That which was plain enough to the simplest-minded woodman on the remote frontier, to the workman at his bench, or the child that had learned to read, the Congress of the United States closed its eyes upon, and that was that public opinion could not restrain, and legal enactments could not bind the cial bond, and was by nature a despot and contemner of the law. In both houses they were warned—the voices of Sumner and Wade of Chandler, of Stevens, of Boutwell, of Williams, fell unheeded upon listless ears. The people cried out "impeach!" but their sleeping sentinels would not hear. Now the rebellion is renewed; now the same purposes strengthened by accessions of party strength, are defiantly set forth in a proclamation, the full meaning of which will only be known if Pennsylvania or New York go Democratic in the next elections. Success in either of these States will be followed by a discontinuance of all further proceedings under the Reconstruction laws; a renewal of the declarations contained in the President's message demanding the admission of congressional delegates, on the ground that the Southern States are already fully reorganized and constitutionally equal with the rest of the States, and the forcible expulsion of Congress if it shall fail to comply with the President's imperious demands.

To enable him to command the absolute obedience of the entire personnel of the executive branch of the Government, civil and military, the President has issued a proclamation reciting his constitutional powers, by which he construes himself to be the sole Executive; the head of the civil and command-er-in-chief of the military officers, from all of whom implicit and unquestioned obedience is demanded.

The proclamation alleges that the acts of General Sickles, as military commander, and his subordinates in carrying out the provisions of the Reconstruction laws passed by Congress, have interposed impediments and obstructions to the Constitution and laws of the United States in North and South Carolina, and that "reasonable and well founded apprehensions exist that such ill-advised and unlawful proceedings may be again attempted there or elsewhere," and makes it the duty of the President under such circumstances to call upon "the land and naval forces" to secure the faithful execution of the Constitution and laws. All officers, civil and military, are reminded that they are bound by oath that they will support and defend the Constitution against all enemies, foreign or domestic, and will bear true faith and allegiance to the same. The numerous safeguards are so arranged as to form an ingenious network of construction, which places all power in the hands of the President, makes him the thinking head of the whole executive machine, reduces the whole army and navy and civil service into unquestioning slaves of his will, without power of thought or exercise of judgment. This extraordinary and unprecedented document has been accompanied by a remarkable circular from the Attorney General's Office, to the tail of which is appended a request for an acknowledgment of the receipt thereof. It is to be sent to all the military and civil officers of the Government, and the quality of the official will be determined by the character of his answer. It is especially important for the future development of the President's revolutionary programme that he should poll the army, and he is also anxious to ascertain the exact number of Government employes of all sorts in this District he can rely upon to stand by him in running the machinery of the Government when he declares Congress illegal and makes himself Dictator.

No such act of despotism was ever attempted by Louis Napoleon during the coup d' état of 1851. In his case De Morny telegraphed to the Government employees that the revolution was fait accompli, and two hundred and twenty-five members of the National Assembly were in prison, and took his chance of the bread-and-butter brigade with tolerable certainty.

This early disclosure of the President's intentions ought to suffice for the awakening of the country to a living sense of its danger.—We are rapidly gliding into the storm of another bloody revolution, of which the President is chief conspirator, and in which our late enemies expect to use against us the arms, treasure, and power of the United States Government. A few more months of Executive usurpation and there will be nothing left of that Government but a single will. There is only one man whose moral influence to-day can save the country by startling it out of the fatal apathy into which it has fallen, and arousing it to a full conciousness of the danger that menaces its life.—Washington Chronicle.

Arraignment of Andrew Johnson.

Major General Logan delivered a long and vigorous speech at Hamilton, Ohio, on Wednesday, in which he arraigned the Democracy for their crimes and infamy, and said of Andrew Johnson:

Tell me to-day if you had Jeff. Davis in the Presidential chair, or Mr. Robert E. Lee, could they have done more for the rebels in this land than Andrew Johnson has since he has been President? If they could, I would like to know in what way they could have done it. If Jeff. Davis had been President, what would he have done? He would have returned all the property to the rebels that they had lost. Andrew Johnson has done that. If Jeff. Davis had been President he would have pardoned all the rebels that asked him for pardon. Andrew Johnson has done that and more too. If Jeff. Davis had been President he would have denounced this Congress, and called them a set of traitors. Andrew Johnson has done that. If Jeff. Davis had been President he would have appointed rebel Governors down South to control those States. Andrew Johnson did the same thing. If Jeff. Davis had been President he would have vetoed the Freedmen's Bureau bill. Andrew Johnson did that. He would have vetoed the civil Rights bill. Andrew Johnson did that. He would have vetoed the first Reconstruction act of Congress, and all the other acts, which Andrew Johnson has done.

History of Gen. Sickles' Case.

The Washington Correspondent of the Boston Daily Advertiser, under date of September 8, says:

The Associated Press dispatch of Friday evening, relative to General Grant and General Sickles, was furnished from the White House, and is a characteristic instance of the underhanded and contemptible manner in which the President is trying to damage General Grant by placing him in a false position. The Executive, as Commander-in-chief, has, of course, copies of all the correspondence between Gen. Grant and Gen. Sickles, and in this case he cannot pretend that any obligation of privacy prevents him from making the correspondence public. He chooses, however, to print but one letter, and does this in such a way as to make General Grant seem insubordinate. A statement of the case in full is, therefore proper.

General Grant was made Secretary of War ad interim on the 12th of August. The following was the regular day for the Cabinet meeting. He was notified of this fact, and in accordance therewith attended. Mr. Binckley was just then beginning to labor with the Sickles case, and presented his views, and easily persuaded the President that the commander of the Second Military District was in a contumacious attitude. General Grant was therefore directed to send the telegrams of the 12th, already published, notifying him that paragraph two of his general order No. 10 must not be construed to bar the action of United States courts. It has been asserted over and over again in special dispatches, inspired by the President, that General Sickles took the responsibility of disobeying this executive order made through General Grant, and asked its suspension until such time as it should please him to make a report upon the matter at issue. The utter falsity of this charge or insinuation will be shown when it is stated that it was suspended by Gen. Grant. He sent the telegram of the 13th inst. on the evening of that day, at the suggestion of the President.

The very next morning, after thinking the matter over, and considering Mr. Binckley's ex parte statements, General Grant concluded that it was no more than fair to give General Sickles also a hearing, and he, therefore, on his own responsibility and without consulting any one, telegraphed again to Gen. Sickles, suspending the instructions of the previous evening, and directing him to make a full report of the case, with the reasons for his action, to the headquarters of the army.

It further appears that on the 16th ult. the matter was again brought before the Cabinet and argued by Mr. Binckley. On the 17th Gen. Sickles sent the brief telegraphic report embodied in his full report just published.—Gen. Grant had in the meantime looked into the matter, and this brief reply convinced him of the propriety of Gen. Sickles' action and he therefore, on the same day viz: the 17th ult., directed him to follow his own views, and consider the dispatch of the 13th ult. as withdrawn. It is understood that at the same time, or within a day or two, General Grant also wrote to General Sickles a letter signifying approval of his couse.

The conclusion of the whole matter is that the President has not only removed General Sickles but he has ventured to revoke Gen. Grant's order or despatch of the 17th ult.—The General Order number 10 of Gen. Sickles has been continued by Gen. Canby; but that he found it in force when he took command, Binckley, and the President to the contrary notwithstanding, is due to Gen. Grant.

JUDGE SHARSWOOD ON LEGAL TENDERS.

Extracts from His Opinion in the Case of Boric vs. Trott.

"On the whole, then, I am of opinion that the provision of the act of Congress of February 25th, 1862, declaring the notes issued in pursuance of that act to be lawful money, and a legal tender, is UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

"This renders it unnecessary that I should consider the other question which has been made, as to the effect of the special agreement to pay in lawful silver money of the United States. I am in favor of entering judgment for the plaintiff, but as a majority of the court are of a different opinion, judgment for the defendant."—Copied from the Philadelphia Age of 23d of February, 1864, where the opinion is published in full.

It may also be found in the Legal Intelligencer of March 18, 1864, page 92.

In the same copy of the Age is a carefully prepared eulogy of the judge and this opinion, in which is the following:

"Judge SHARSWOOD reasons upon and decides the case as if he were some lofty spirit sitting far above and out of the contentions and strifes of the world."

Will not the holders of greenbacks and Government bonds consider the judge as quite too elevated and etherial for such earthly honors as a seat on the Supreme Bench?

Flag for the Banner County!

UNION REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE ROOMS, 1105 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa., September 11, 1867.—This Committee will present their new and elegant Campaign Flag, 30 by 20 feet in size, to the county which, at the ensuing election, shall show the best return for HON. HENRY W. WILLIAMS, compared with the vote of last year for Gen. GEARY.

By order of the committee.

F. JORDAN, Chairman.

GEO. W. HAMERSLY, J. ROBLEY DUNGLISON, } Secretaries.

THE wish of "A Subscriber" will be complied with next week.

"CAPTURE the nation's forts, fire on the nation's flag, make war on the nation's government, shoot down the nation's soldiers, and then swear you won't do so any more, and you are an honest loyal citizen," says Andrew Johnson. Any murderer on the gallows with a rope around his neck, would swear, if allowed to run at liberty, that he would shed no more blood.

GEN. SHERIDAN passed through Pittsburgh on last Thursday evening, and was met at the Union Depot by a crowd of admirers estimated at between 8,000 and 10,000 persons. The loyalists of the country everywhere honor its brave and skillful defenders, while the Lost Cause men show their hatred for them by calling them "satraps" &c. Couldn't the Local tell its readers this week that "Satrap Sheridan" was in Pittsburgh on the 19th inst?

THE Local, as we expected, chuckles wonderfully over the result of the election in California. Can any one of our readers inform us how it deported itself when the news of Lee's surrender reached Beaver? We suspect very strongly that the spirit of its editor that morning was not as buoyant as when he received the news a few days ago, of the Union defeat in California. His rejoicing over Union reverses now, is pretty strong evidence that he mourned over Union victories then.

WE wish to call the attention of the readers of the Argus to a fact or two connected with the management of public affairs in the county in which most of them live:

Beaver county has been Republican in policies for the last ten or twelve years. That party has managed the affairs of the county since then, and what has the general character of that management been? At no time since the period referred to has our rate of taxation been heavy, compared with the rates in the counties adjoining us. They have all paid as many mills on the dollar as have we, and some of them a good many more. And while they are all at the present time, floundering in a sea of county indebtedness, we are so near free, that at our present rate of taxation, next year will wipe our official obligations entirely away. But let us look a little further: We have now all the railroad and transportation facilities that we require; we have all the public buildings up, and in good condition, that we need; we have a productive farm on which to keep our paupers, and we have no important public improvements now to make, and probably will not have for the next twenty-five years to come! All these improvements, and almost entirely out of debt! speak trumpet-tongued in favor of the party in this county, that had charge of the people's business, and disbursed their money. Can any of our readers point us to a county in Pennsylvania that has superior comforts and conveniences to Beaver county, and is at the same time in a better condition, financially, than we are? We think not.—Then let due credit for faithfulness and ability be given the Republican party in this county, and let its representatives be heartily supported at the coming election.

LAST week we copied three or four bogus Republican tickets, printed at the Local office, and which we subsequently learned had been extensively distributed in the Northern and Eastern parts of the county. It appears now that these swindlers have still another bogus Republican ticket, which was gotten up entirely for the South side of the river. It is as follows:

Assembly, Thomas Nicholson
Jonathan R. Day
John Ewing
Protlonotary, John Caughey
Treasurer, Hugh B. Anderson
Commissioner, William Ewing
Jury Commissioner, Jos. C. Wilson
Auditor, G. K. Shannon
Poor House Director, Samuel McManamy
Trustees of Academy, S. J. Cross
John Barclay

It will be seen that this whole ticket is made up of Republicans, except that anxious Lost Cause man, H. B. Anderson, who takes the place of Capt. Barnes. Mr. Nicholson is made to head the ticket, so that Republicans seeing his name will be led to believe it to be the genuine Republican ticket, and if thus deceived, will contribute to the support of a man (H. B. Anderson) for whom they do not wish to vote.

The person forwarding this ticket to Beaver says that Hugh B. Anderson is distributing it on the South side of the river, and concludes his note by saying "A worthy business for an honest man!" So say we.

J. H. O. has paid less taxes, and done more groaning about heavy taxation than almost any other man in the county. His sympathy for the taxpayers is readily seen in the following statement. Last year the county commissioners ordered the receipts and expenditures to be published in the Argus and in the Local. The two papers chargod the county as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| LOCAL for Receipts & Expenditures | $150 00 | |
| ARGUS " " " | 125 00 | |
| LOCAL more than ARGUS | | —$25 00 |
| LOCAL for Collateral Inheritance tax | 27 00 | |
| ARGUS " " " | 20 50 | |
| LOCAL more than ARGUS | | —$6 50 |
| LOCAL for Exhibit of Academy fund | 30 00 | |
| ARGUS " " " | 22 50 | |
| LOCAL more than ARGUS, | | —$7 50 |
| LOCAL for Poor Directors report | 45 00 | |
| ARGUS " " " | $7 50 | |
| LOCAL more than ARGUS, | | —$7 50 |
| Making a total of | | —$45 50 |

which the Local charged more than the Argus for the same amount of work performed at the same time.

Taxpayers! can you have any confidence in a man whose actions thus belie his professions.

A GREAT many Lost Cause men in this locality always have, and continue still to belabor the "nigger" unmercifully. They don't want him to have a vote; they are opposed to his attending church, and they affect disgust at all attempts to give him an education.—Now why this hostility to a weak and unoffending class of people? There can be but one intelligent reason alleged, and that is a fear that the negro with these facilities in his hands will first become a rival, and then their superior in all the elements that constitute usefulness and true manhood. Look at the intelligence, habits, and surroundings of most of those who thus declaim against the "nigger," and then tell us, if you can, that it is not jealousy of the negro race, that excites the hate of the Lost Cause men, and induces the abuse they heap upon their heads?

UNION MEN! be on the alert. The enemy are quietly but actively at work. Finding that their slanderous personal attacks upon Mr. Caughey, Mr. Barnes and others on our ticket were benefitting instead of injuring these gentleman, they have deliberately gone to work to swindle them by circulating Republican tickets with their names omitted and those of Cooper and Anderson substituted.—Let not this fraud prove effectual in a single instance. Be careful therefore as to who you get your ballot from on the day of election, and after getting it, examine it closely and see that every name upon it is that of a Republican, Caughey and Barnes included, for it is against these two that the onset is chiefly made. Do not be caught "napping," but on the other hand, show these swindlers that you are not the dupes they take you to be.

WHEN the Democrats of this county went out of power some years ago, they left the taxpayers a "legacy" of over one hundred thousand dollars of indebtedness. Under Republican management that indebtedness will next year be paid off, principal and interest. If then we have any voters in the county who desire to run the risk of having another indebtedness of this character entailed upon us, they should by all means vote the Lost Cause county ticket. If, on the other hand, they are anxious to have the county kept out of debt, and endorse prudent managament on the part of public officials, and are in favor of low taxes, they should themselves vote and try to induce every person else to vote the Republican ticket at the approaching election.

SOLDIERS! who are your friends? Look at a fact or two: In Berks county, where a Democratic nomination is equivalent to an election, not a single soldier was put upon the Lost Cause ticket nominated there a few weeks ago!

In Lancaster county, adjoining Berks, where a Republican nomination is equivalent to an election, five soldiers (two of them for the Legislature) were put upon the Republican ticket nominated in that county, last week!

Facts like these carry their own interpretation with them, and they should not be lost sight of by the soldiers of the Republic when they go to the ballot box.

CHEAT me once, and it is your fault; cheat me the second time, and it is my fault. If the people permit Andrew Johnson to cheat them again, after so many lessons, they deserve the worst that can come of his misbehavior. The only true way to rebuke the knave who now holds bloody possession of the White House, is to reject the candidates of the party which endorses his enormities and justifies his crimes.

The Lost Cause bogus ticket movement developed itself too soon. The persons having charge of it made several misdeals. They carried a few sheets of these fraudulent tickets to one or two "reliable" Democrats in each of the townships, with instructions to not let them be seen until the day before the election, when they were to be given general circulation about the polls. How we got hold of a batch of them is unnecessary to state. "Suffice it to say," after the exposure of the project in last week's Argus, the father-in-law and son-in-law saw they were caught, and to make the best of a bad job, they put on a bold front, confessed the deed, and made a stupid effort to justify their conduct. The last we heard of H. B. A. he was distributing these bogus tickets with a "perfect looseness" on the South side of the river.

THE Union mass meeting at Alliance Ohio, on last Thursday and at which Gen. Logan, of Illinois, made the leading speech was a tremendous gathering of the people. The number present was estimated at 15,000 persons. The Buckeye boys are "going for" the sympathizers as they "went for" the rebs a few years ago.

J. H. O. in his last issue admits the printing of the bogus tickets exposed in the Argus last week. He sees nothing dishonorable in it. Very likely. A public and persistent slanderer would hardly detect dishonor in any conduct in which he might engage! Others however look upon the bogus ticket swindle in a very different light.

MR. EDITOR: I am under the necessity of again asking a small space in your columns, for the purpose of presenting to the voters of the county, a few words in relation to the false and malicious libels concerning myself published by the editor of the "Local."

In his last issue he continues his attacks upon me, and asserts in positive terms the truth of the charges made in that and the former numbers of his paper, and then hoping to give effect to his vile slanders, and perhaps thereby induce some to believe them in part at least, makes a show of daring a prosecution. He knows full well that it requires something more than a direct assertion by him through his paper to induce credence amongst the honest voters of the county. But he will resort to any means, no matter how contemptible and base, to secure his darling object, the election of his father-in-law—Mr. Anderson—my opponent. Perhaps he thinks that his course will induce me to institute a prosecution against him now, and then by playing the role of a martyr, and crying party persecution, he may secure votes for my opponent. If so, he is mistaken. I shall not change my determination, nor run counter to the expressed wishes of the executive committee of my party, whose views are to some extent at least, entitled to my respect, and who deem it improper that anything should be done that might by any possibility be construed into an effort to improperly influence voters, or that would seem like an effort to avenge even the vile personal wrongs heaped upon a candidate by the conductor of an opposing press, until the contest is closed. In their view I concur. But I deem it proper that I should say through your columns, and I do, most emphatically say to the voters of the county, that the charges made, one and all, in whole and in part, are base falsehoods, false and malicious libels upon myself, published with a view to promote the election of the editors father-in-law, Mr. Anderson, and further, that when the proper time arrives, when the election is over, be the result thereof what it may, I will vindicate my character, and will ask at the hands of the Court, and a jury of my country, that justice be meted out to one who has so wantonly sought to slander, vilify and injure me.

ELIJAH BARNES.

EDITOR ARGUS: Will you allow me space enough in your paper, to ask the "Lost Cause" candidate for the Treasurship, the following questions:

Is it true Mr. Anderson, that you have circulated, and caused to be circulated a bogus ticket with all Republican names except your own, which is made to take the place of that of Capt. Barnes? If so, what was your object? Did you intend to mislead Republican voters, and cause them to cast their votes contrary to their wish? If this was your intention, did you act the part of an honorable and honest man? Does such conduct in your judgment well become a man of your years and professions? If elected to the office you seek, what assurance will the public have that their funds are in the hands of a safe man? Have you not at different times decided preaching "what you could" necessity for it by your dishonest course in politics?

Finally, Does not your case furnish a painful illustration of the truth, that "Evil Communications corrupt good manners" Hoping that you will true answers give to all the foregoing questions, I will here close my examination for the present. MONITOR.

EDITOR ARGUS: My interest and anxiety for the passage of a Free Railroad law prompts me to address you once more. It is too late now to nominate a Democratic ticket of true men, and we are left to choose between the Odell and Republican tickets. No intelligent and honest Democrat can give his support to this ticket put in nomination by the blackguard Odell. I have heretofore proven that he is in the interest of the monopoly, and made it evident that he nominated Jno. White for the purpose of thwarting the will of the people of Beaver county. Will he undertake to deny this? Not at all.

Abandoned as he is to everything that is honest, decent and truthful, he is not brazen enough to undertake to refute this. How does John White stand before the people of Beaver county on this question. I am credibly informed that he is largely interested in certain Railroads, and that all the pecuniary interest he has in the world leads him to deadly hostility to a Free Railroad law. Dare John White come out over his own signature and make a denial of this? He is said to be a man who has some regard for his character for truth, and of course can't deny what everyone in his own neighborhood knows to be true. Does any one doubt the position of White on the Railroad question? I have called on him time and again to come out and state his views on this subject. Why has he not done it? Simply because Odell and his gang compel him to keep his mouth shut, that Free Railroad Democrats may be deceived into his support, only to be betrayed. Odell knew White's position on the Railroad question before he had him placed on his ticket, he knew he was opposed to a Free Railroad law, and that he would aid him in carrying out his dinbolical shemes.

John White dare not deny any of the allegations I have made, which will be proven by his silence.

Mr. White is said to be a decent man. I am not prepared to offer any positive evidence in contradiction of this, but the circumstantial proof against it is very strong. He is in bad company. He has allowed himself to be made the supple tool of Odell, a man of the lowest and most degraded character, who lately flew from other parts to escape the vengence of the law, and took refuge here.

Now if John White was a high minded and honorably man, as some say he is, would he allow himself to be made the instrument in the hands of one so vile and base as Odell, for the purpose of carrying out his rascally schemes?

But some may say that White is not aware of the baseness of Odell. But this will not do for an excuse, if he reads his paper he can't be ignorant of the fact, besides I have called his attention to it several times, and he could easily find out by a little inquiry. I have no disposition to do Mr. White injustice, but if what I have stated is not true, let him say so. Let him repudiate this stray scamp, who has got in among us, and is endeavoring to lead us to mischief and ruin.

White occupies a very unenviable position, and has rendered himself unworthy the support of all Free Railroad Democrats and of every high-minded and respectable man.

How is it with Nicholson. I know him personally. He is a Republican, but at the same time he is a high-minded and honorable man; no honester man ever lived. No man who is acquainted with him ever charged him with a dishonest act. He is the very soul of honor, a man of gigantic mind, and as I said before he is radically in favor of the passage of a Free Railroad law and opposed to the monopoly, Odell to the contrary notwithstanding. There is more honesty in the little finger of Thos. Nicholson Esq., than there is in the whole loins of Odell. Nicholson is an intellectual man—a man of Legislative experience, and if elected will be able to do much in securing the passage of a Free Railroad law. Now after taking a view of the position occupied by the two candidates and of their respective abilities I am bound to conclude that it is the duty of all honest Democrats to support Nicholson. We have no Democratic ticket and are compelled to choose between the Odell and Republican tickets. My duty is plain. The whole Odell ticket should be repudiated and all who are engaged in assisting him in his dirty work taught a lesson that they will not soon forget. By the way Odell lies when he says that the "bogus" tickets were ordered by persons belonging to the Republican party. I have been furnished with some of them, as a Democrat, and as a supposed supporter of the whole Odell concern. They were given to me to palm off on Republicans. H. B. Anderson, Odell's father-in-law, is peddling them all through this neighborhood. But I will not stop here to argue, for it is an established and well understood fact that Odell is a liar and a scoundrel and if he is not thrown over-board before the time for another campaign rolls around, there will be such a thundering as will make a terrible rattling "among the dry bones." The voice of the yeomanry shall no longer be stifled. The Democratic party of Beaver county is composed of too good material to be led and controlled by an unscrupulous and base stranger, like this fellow Odell.

I thought the best way to preserve the integrity of the Democratic party, was to call another convention, and nominate another ticket—a Democratic and Free Railroad ticket, and denounce the perfidious and rascally course of Odell, in selling out the Democratic party of this county for filthy lucre. I have made this known at different times through your columns, but my advice and warnings have not been heeded. The excuse made by some I have talked to on this subject was that "it was not worth while, as we could not elect anyhow, and that we might as well let it pass this time, but when another year comes around "that we should kick Odell out and bring the party back to the old land marks." It is too late to do anything else now but let Democrats take warning for the future.

The only thing left for honest Democrats is to vote the Republican ticket, and repudiate the whole Odell concern, and thereby teach all that we are not to be betrayed by an unprincipled stranger and blackguard, and that we are in favor of a Free Railroad law, and are determined to have it.

Odell has again commenced advising Free Railroad men to vote for John White. Did ever impudence and barefaced rascality exceed this. But a little while ago, he managed to get the appointment of delegate to the State convention, from a "clique" in the interest of the monopoly. He went there, and against his former professions and declarations sold himself and party for a few dollars, a small amount, according to his own story. After he came home was a delegate in the county convention and managed to nominate a ticket of his own kind and clan—passed a resolution endorsing the State convention in its opposition to a Free Railroad law, secured the nomination of John White, whom he very well knew to be identified with the monopoly and hostile to a Free Railroad law. In the face of all this he is silly enough to ask honest Democrats to support his bogus concern.—A man that can do this I don't wonder would rob the Treasury. He is attempting to rob honest Democrats too. I saw one of his circulars the other day asking Democrats for money to help to elect his ticket. The money is to go into his own pocket. That is what he is after, money is the "objective point" with him.

Well he has a man by the name of Dr. Simpson appointed chairman of the convention, who in return appoints him chairman of the county committee. I don't know this man Simpson, but he is a scalawag, or he would not assist Odell in his corrupt schemes to swindle the Democratic party. In all probability he has an interest in some Railroad.—Odell has his father-in-law nominated for Treasurer, the best office in the county. He prints Republican tickets with Hugh B. Anpeople them through the country like ant to swindle Republicans into his support. Is this honest? Is this right? Has the Democratic party come to this? Such corrupt and swindling games cannot be endorsed by honest men of any party. Hugh B. Anderson has allowed himself to be used as a tool of Odell, and as such should be condemned at the polls by all honest Democrats.

Now in conclusion I ask my Democratic brethern all over the county to place the seal of condemnation on the whole of Odell's rotten concern at the election, and after that let us re-organize and purify the Democratic party, put the brand of infamy upon Odell, kick him overboard, and re-establish the party upon a just and righteous foundation, then rally to its support A DEMOCRAT.

Copperhead Gains in Elections.

Judging from the Copperhead rejoicings over the late elections, our friends might think that the Republican party was about to collapse and pass entirely out of existence.—But that is not quite the fact. The election of a Governor in California is the only point gained over which the Democracy have legitimate reason to reice. We are not certain about Congressmen from that State, but it is probable that two of them are Republicans. Now let us see what wonderful gains the Democrats have made in the only place where gains can to them any good—that is, in the House of Representatives (the Senate is beyond their reach for half a century). The relative strength parties in the last and present Congresses is as follows:

| | XXXIX Congress. | | XLth Congress. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| States. | Rep. | Dem. | Rep. | Dem. |
| California | 3 | 0 | 2 | 1 |
| Connecticut | 4 | 0 | 1 | 3 |
| Delaware | 0 | 1 | 0 | 1 |
| Illinois | 11 | 3 | 11 | 3 |
| Indiana | 9 | 2 | 8 | 3 |
| Iowa | 6 | 0 | 6 | 0 |
| Kansas | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 |
| Kentucky | 2 | 7 | 2 | 7 |
| Maine | 5 | 0 | 5 | 0 |
| Maryland | 2 | 3 | 1 | 4 |
| Massachusetts | 10 | 0 | 10 | 0 |
| Michigan | 6 | 0 | 6 | 0 |
| Minnesota | 2 | 0 | 2 | 0 |
| Missouri | 7 | 2 | 8 | 1 |
| Nebraska | 0 | 0 | 1 | 0 |
| Nevada | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 |
| N. Hampshire | 3 | 0 | 3 | 0 |
| New Jersey | 2 | 3 | 3 | 2 |
| New York | 20 | 11 | 20 | 11 |
| Ohio | 17 | 2 | 16 | 3 |
| Oregon | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 |
| Pennsylvania | 16 | 8 | 18 | 6 |
| Rhode Island | 2 | 0 | 2 | 0 |
| Tennessee | 2 | 4 | 8 | 0 |
| Vermont | 3 | 0 | 3 | 0 |
| West Virginia | 3 | 0 | 3 | 0 |
| Wisconsin | 5 | 1 | 5 | 1 |
| Total | 145 | 47 | 147 | 46 |

It appears that Republicans have gained two members and the Democrats lost one—the Nebraska member making the one extra. With more than three-fourths of each House of Congress the Republican party will manage to survive the temporary check in California.—Har. Telegraph.

The Jury Law.

There were a number of bills before the Legislature winter, "for the better and more impartial selection of persons to serve as Jurors" in each of the counties of this commonwealth. We published an abstract of one of these at that time, but it appears that neither of those then referred to became the law. The following bill was afterwards brought up in the Legislature, passed both Houses, received the approval of the Governor, and now the act of the Legislature on the subject of selecting Jurors in this State.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That at the general election, to be held on the second Tuesday of October, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and tri-annually thereafter, at such election, the qualified electors of the several counties of this commonwealth shall elect, in the manner now provided, by law, for the election of other county officers, two sober, intelligent and judicious persons, to serve as jury commissioners in each of said counties, for and during the term of three years ensuing their election; but the same person, or persons, shall not be eligible for re-election more than once in any period of six years: Provided, That each of said qualified electors shall vote for one person only as jury commissioner; and the two persons having the greatest number of votes, for jury commissioner, shall be duly elected jury commissioners for such county.

SECTION 2. It shall be the duty of said jury commissioners, president judge, or additional law judge, of the respective district, or a majority of them, to meet at the seat of justice of the respective counties, at least thirty days before the first term of the court of common pleas, in every year, and thereupon proceed, with due diligence, to select, alternatively, from the whole qualified electors of the respective county, at large, a number, such as at the term of the court of pleas next preceding shall, by the said court, be designated, of sober, intelligent and judicious persons, to serve as jurors, in the several courts of such county, during that year; and the said jury commissioners, president judge, or additional law judge, or a majority of them, shall, in the mode and manner now directed by law, place the names of persons, so selected, in the proper jury wheel, and the said jury wheel locked, as now required by law, shall remain in the custody of the said jury commissioners, and the keys thereof in the custody of the Sheriff of said county.

SECTION 3. That said jury commissioners, and the Sheriff of the respective county, or any two of them, shall draw from the proper jury wheel, panels of jury, as grand jury of the proper county, and as petit and traverse jurors, for the trial of issues, in fact, which may be taken in any action, in any of the courts, civil and criminal, of the several counties aforesaid, in the manner now practiced and allowed: but before the said jury commissioners and sheriff shall proceed to select, or draw, jurors, in the manner aforesaid, they shall severally take the oath, or affirmation, now prescribed by law, to be taken by the sheriff and county commissioners, before selecting and drawing jurors.

SECTION 4. That so much of any act or acts of assembly of this commonwealth, as makes it the duty of the sheriff and county commissioners, of any of said counties, to select and draw jurors, shall be repealed, and cease to have any force or effect, from and after the first day of December next, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven: Provided, That all acts, and parts of acts of assembly, now in force, in relation to the custody, sealing and unsealing, locking and opening of the jury wheel of the respective county, and all acts and parts of acts of assembly now in force, imposing any penalty, or punishment, on the sheriff and county commissioners, or either of them, for anything done, or omitted, by them, or either of them, in relation to the keeping, locking, opening, sealing, or breaking the seal, of any jury wheel, or in relation to the selecting or drawing of jurors, shall be taken, deemed and held to apply to the said jury commissioners and sheriff.

SECTION 5. Each of said jury commissioners shall be allowed and paid out of the respective county treasury, two dollars and fifty cents per day, and four cents per mile circular, from the residence of the commissioners to the court house.

SECTION 6. It shall be the duty of each of said jury commissioners, to take upon himself, and discharge the duties of his said office, under a penalty of one hundred dollars for each and every neglect, or refusal, to attend the same, to be sued for and recovered, before any justice of the peace of the proper county, as debts of like are now by law recoverable; ten dollars of which shall go to the person sueing, and the residue to be paid to the treasurer of the respective county, for the use of the same.

SECTION 7. In case any of the said jury commissioners, by sickness, death, or other unavoidable cause, to discharge the duties of said office, or in case of neglect, or refusal, to serve thereon, it shall be the duty of the president judge, in such county wherein said vacancy may have occurred, to appoint a suitable person, or persons, as the case may be, possessing the qualifications aforesaid, to perform the duties of said office, during such vacancy; and such person, or persons, after having complied with the requirements of the third section of this act, shall proceed to discharge the duties of said office during the remainder of the term so vacated:

Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to the city of Philadelphia.

JOHN P. GLASS,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LOUIS W. HALL,
Speaker of the Senate.

APPROVED—The tenth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven. JNO. W. GEARY.

Trouble at Antietam Cemetery Dedication.

From all accounts the proceedings attending the dedication of Antietam Cemetery on Tuesday were not in every respect of a character to shed honors on the loyal North. At the conclusion of Ex-Governor BRADFORD'S oration, loud calls from all quarters were made for Governor GEARY, and Governor SWANN was impotent to restore order. The tumult alarmed President JOHNSON, who was anxious to know if there were any rebel dead interred in the cemetery. Order was however restored through an appeal from Governor GEARY that the audience permit the programme to be carried out as agreed upon by the Committee of Arrangements. The order of exercises was then proceeded with, at the conclusion of which, Governor GEARY was again called for. As he was about to commence his address, President JOHNSON and his followers, including Governor SWANN, left the stand, which mark of discourtesy was greeted with derisive laughter from the crowd. Governor GEARY made a neat address, in which he stated there were fifty regiments of infantry, five of cavalry and six batteries of artillery from Pennsylvania engaged in the battles of Antietam. Governor FENTON, of New York, delivered a brief address, after which the assemblage dispersed, a large majority anything but pleased with the ceremonies of the occasion.—Pitts. Com.

The Way To Do It.

The sole hope of the Democrats in this State is based on the apathy of the Republicans arising from over confidence. Their plan of campaign is to do nothing to awaken Republicans into activity. At the same time measures are being taken to bring out the Democratic voters—in fact they are always out. These facts should awaken Republicans to do their whole duty. There is no change among the people—no conversions to the standard of ANDREW JOHNSON. There is no pretense of the sort. The people are as determined to-day as they were last year, when the State gave seventeen thousand, and Allegheny county nearly eight thousand Republican majority. There is just one thing to be done, therefore. The Republican voters must be brought out. To this end our efforts should be redoubled and constant. It is not a question of strength but its use. The wards, townships and districts should be thoroughly canvassed. There is time enough for that. Practical missionating among the mass of Republican voters is what is needed. Neighborhood meetings and frequent conferences should be held, less for discussion with the view of converting the enemy than to insure a full Republican vote on the day of election. It is not necessary to wait for the action of committees. Five—even three—Republicans in a neighborhood meeting together will constitute just the kind of committee that is required for the occasion. There is not a ward, township, or a district, in which our friends cannot make clean work of it within the next week. Friends! will you do it?—Pitts. Com.

Wind.—A heavy storm of wind passed over this place on Friday last. The dust for a while was blinding. We heard of no particular damage done by it.

The State Fair.—The State Fair, which commenced at Pittsburgh yesterday, will continue until next Friday, the 27th. From what we have been able to learn we judge the exhibition will be a success.

Large Yield.—Mr. Joseph McGuffin, of Buffalo, living on the farm belonging to the heirs of Hugh Craig, last spring sowed two bushels and three pecks of spring wheat, and from the yield he, a few days ago, threshed forty-five bushels round measure. Who can beat that.—Washington Examiner.

Who Can Beat It?—Geo. W. Craft, of Morris township, while out hunting one day of last week, shot thirty-two squirrels off one hickory tree. Who can surpass this?—Wash. Examiner.

Ran Away.—A horse hitched to a one-horse wagon, belonging to Prof. Taylor, of this place, ran away on Friday last, and seriously injured a small boy, who was in charge of him at the time.

Our County Fair.—Our agricultural and mechanical friends throughout the county should bear in mind that our county fair takes place on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, (2d, 3d and 4th) of October. Every person in the county should be present on the occasion.

Jas. Marshall & Co., Pittsburgh, want some reliable party in this place to assume the agency for the sale of their stoves in this county. Read their advertisement in this week's paper.

Railroad Accident.—On last Saturday morning the mail train went struck a man near Economy village, in this county. He was taken aboard and carried to Rochester. He did not appear to be very seriously hurt at first, but gradually grew worse and died at about twelve o'clock. He gave his name as R. K. Burch, of Greenville, Pa. He leaves a wife and daughter, living in Greenville, who have been telegraphed.

Be Assessed.—Every voter in the county and in the State, should see that he is properly assessed.—Sept. 30th is the last day on which assessments can be made, and we warn our friends everywhere to have their names on the assessment list before that time.—Do not defer this important duty, but do it at once.

Temperance Meetings.—The temperance meetings addressed last week, by Rev. J. F. Dravo and others, we understand, were well attended by the citizens in whose localities they were held. Several other meetings were held this week, but with what success we have not been informed.

Warm Weather.—The weather last week was very warm in this locality—the thermometer frequently rising up as high as ninety-two in the shade.—This, for the middle of September, is somewhat unusual.

Horse Recovered.—The fine horse mentioned in the Argus of last week, as having strayed or been stolen from the premises of Capt. John Moore, of Vanport, this county, was secured on Thursday of last week, in Hopewell township. He was found there running at large. A Mr. White took him up and kept charge of him until Capt. Moore's arrival.

Painful Accident.—On last Thursday Mr. William Johnston, of this place, was thrown from a load of hay and very badly hurt. In the fall, he came in contact with a fence, and it was feared for a while that he had suffered injuries of an internal character.

Squirrel Hunting.—On last Tuesday, a couple of "Nimrods" from this place went out on a squirrel hunt, made a circle of about twenty miles, returned home with three squirrels, and confessed themselves "never so tired before." The expedition was clearly not a paying one.

Excessive Drought.—Our friends in the northern part of this county, and west of them, have for a long time past been suffering from an excessive drought. They have had but little rain since the beginning of harvest, and the result is, they have little or no pasture for their stock, and what grain they have in the ground is at a stand-still and doing no good.—In some portions of Ohio, we understand, farmers are obliged to feed their stock at the present time, so scarce has pasture already become.

A Narrow Escape.—During the latter part of last week, Rev. J. Monroe, of this place, came very near being seriously, if not fatally, hurt. He is quite feeble, and almost blind. At the time to which reference is made, he was crossing the street for a pail of water. A wagon and one horse attached, was just then coming rapidly down the street. He did not notice their approach until the horse came in contact with him. The shaft of the vehicle in passing just touched his eye, inflicting a slight wound. Had it struck him fairly, at the speed at which it was going, he would more than likely have been killed by the collision.

Beaver Station to be Improved.—We learn of last week that the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad Company would soon commence the erection of new buildings at the station in this place. They will probably be commenced within the next four or six weeks, and will be sufficiently large to accommodate the traveling public, as well as protect the freight coming to and going from Beaver. These improvements are very much needed, and when made, our people will be much gratified thereat.

It affords us much pleasure to hear that the C. & P. Railroad is doing a fine business at the present time, and particularly are we rejoiced to learn that our own station is contributing its full share of business to the Road. The agent at this station informs us that the gross receipts at his office amount to about $900 per month, or nearly $11,000 per year. Surely a business of this character ought to induce the company to give us No. 1 buildings when they do commence building them.

Programme for Teachers' Institute.—Select Reading, by Miss Clara Donahoo; Class-Drill in False Syntax, by Miss Nettie Woodrow; Oration, by Mr. H. McCreery; Reading Periodical, by Miss Sadie Reynolds.

Queries.—If the earth's axis was inclined 30 degrees how wide would the torrid zone then be? If a chain of high mountains extended along the eastern coast of South America, would it change the fall of rain in that country, and, if so, why? What is the cause of the Northern Lights?

Mathematical.—A man and his son agree to mow a certain field for $72. The son mowed ¼ of the whole plus 10 acres, and received $38; how many acres did each mow? A staff, whose length is 33 feet, is in the air and water: and the length in the air minus 2 feet, equals four times the length in the water plus 6 feet: required the length in the air?

Grammatical.—Whom do you think will be the successful candidate? It was "him" the teacher said should be parsed as objective case. I knew it to be her. Correct and parse the italicised words of the sentences above.

Institute to convene at the public school house, in Beaver, Monday evening, Sept. 30th, at 7 P. M.

Enlarged and Improved.—The Buckeye State, New Lisbon, Ohio, came to us last week enlarged and in a new dress. The Buckeye State is an excellent family paper, Republican in politics, and deserves to be liberally sustained by the Republicans of Columbiana county.

Illicit Distillery.—The Democratic Still that was discovered a few days since, near Petersburgh, Mahoning county, Ohio, was quite an extensive affair. It was owned and run by John Eckert, and was discovered in this wise: a man who was walking through a large wood, one day, in the pursuit of game, saw in a dense thicket a smoke arising, and on examination saw a shaft or large well in the ground covered with brush. He, being a man who had some care for the good of the Government, (although it has been said that all Petersburgh is purely Democratic,) and thinking that something was wrong, gave information to the proper authorities, who came in a posse and made a reconnoisance. They could not descend the shaft, and so searched around for another entrance.—They found the mouth of an old deserted coal bank, and in they crawled on their hands and knees, the burly collector leading the van, and his assistants following in "close order." After a lengthened and wearisome march into the bowels of the earth, they at last came to a large "room," and here found the object of their search. They stopped quietly in the back ground to see how the whiskey was made. Here were a half-dozen anti-non-taxable-bond Democrats hard at work. Eleven stills were in full operation, and twenty-eight barrels of the "rosy" stood gracefully in rows, not one marked by an Inspector's stamp.

After enjoying the scene for awhile, the officer walked into the light of the carbon oil lamps, and the presence of the "unterrified," who suddenly forgot their name, and become terribly terrified, as the strong hand of the law was laid upon them. Rather had the devil himself come out of the darkness upon them than thus to have unjust (!) punishment thrust upon them by these officers of unconstitutional Black Republicanism.

The stuners went to jail, and the whiskey into the coffers of Uncle Sam, to help pay the debt, that all good Democrats are so anxious should be paid.—Salem (O.) Journal.

Places for Holding the Borough and Borough Township Elections.—As two election precincts exist in this locality, where we had but one before, it may be well for voters to understand in time where they are expected to deposit their ballots on the 8th inst:

The voters of Borough township will deposit their votes at the usual place of holding elections, viz., in the room of the Court House now occupied by Messrs. Rntan and Harrah.

The voters of the borough of Beaver will deposit their votes at the Sheriff's office, in said borough.

Universal Suffrage.—By an act of the Nebraska Legislature, passed June 24, 1867, women of lawful age are allowed to vote at the district school meetings. The first elections under the law will be held in October. The Omaha Republican suspects "the entering wedge is thus driven for universal suffrage in Nebraska."

The Original French Document Arrived.—"Je certifie que la premiere medaille en or pour les pianos Americaine a ete donnee a l'unanimite a Mr. Steinway, par le Jury de l'Exposition Internationale. Class 10, premiere sur la liste.

Le President:

Melinet,

Georges Kastner, Ambroise Thomas,
Ed. Haslick, F. A. Gevaret."
L. Scheidmayer.

TRANSLATION.

I certify that the First Gold Medal for American Pianos has been unanimously awarded to Messrs. Steinway by the Jury of the International Exposition.

First on the list in Class X.

Melinet,
President of International Jury.

George Kastner, Ambroise Thomas, Ed. Haslic, F. A. Gevaret, L. Scheidmayer, } Members of the International Jury.

The original certificate, together with the "original catalogue of awards," in which the name of STEINWAY & SONS is recorded first on the list, can be seen at the Steinways' warerooms, New-York, and fac-simile copies of the same at H. Kleber & Bro.'s, the sole agents, warerooms 122 Wood street, Pittsburgh.

The above document settles the question finally and conclusively as to which are the best pianos of the world, and which, as such, receive the first prize over all others at the Paris Exposition. In view of this decision, which is a fatal blow to the aspirations and pretentions of the contending Boston house (Chickering & Sons), the attempt of the latter to cover up their defeat and divert public attention from the only recognized authorities by ostentatiously parading a monarchial toy conferred outside of the Exposition, appears as puerile as it is ineffectual. Although the great popularity and fame of the Steinways is not the result of medals (or honorable or dishonorable "crosses"), but of the acknowledged superiority of their Piano Fortes, yet it is gratifying to know that the highest musical authorities of Europe unite with us in according to them the first and highest place on the list of the piano manufacturers of the world.—N. Y. Exchange.

I Want to Go Home.

"I want to go home," said a weary child,
At the close of a summer day—
She was tired out with running about,
And she'd done with whom to play.

"I want to go home," said a heart-sick girl,
At the end of a promenade—
At a brilliant ball in a splendid hall
Where its beauty began to fade.

"I want to go home," said a poor sick boy,
In a far-off distant land—
"I want to be nurs'd as I was at first,
And soothed by my mother's hand."

"I want to go home," said a foolish maid,
Who had left the parental roof—
Who had braved her fate and discover'd too late
That she'd better have borne reproof.

"I want to go home," said the prodigal son,
Who had sickened of wanton pleasure—
Who had broken his truth and wasted his youth
In search of golden treasure.

"I want to go home," said a widow'd one,
When her much-lov'd one had left her—
He was called of God—laid under the sod.
And she felt of what Fate had bereft her.

"I want to go home," said a lonely man,
When the wife of his youth had departed—
And he walked to and fro, and his spirit sank low
And he felt all broken-hearted.

"I want to go home," is the feeling of all,
No matter how they express it—
The thought is the same, be what will the name,
Or the words in which they may dress it.

All want to go home when this life's done,
And the hard fought battle's o'er—
To join that band at His right hand,
To live forever more.

Will our friends, in each election district, see to it that the the temperance tickets are at the polls in good time and that at least one good trusty person from each of the political parties have charge of them separate from party tickets—if the Vigilant Committee is composed entire of one party substitute a good man from the other side. Limited acquaintance with the people of the different districts may not have enabled us in all instances to make a fair divide as we wished to do. We sincerely trust that the friends of temperance will be active on the day of election.

JOHN P. DRAVO,
Beaver, Sept. 23, '67. Ch'n Ex. Com.

We notice in the election returns of last year that Economy and Chippewa townships tied each other on 91 Republican votes for Governor Geary. Could not these townships tie each other on 100 votes for Judge Williams this year? Suppose the invincible Republicans of these districts make the effort.

An Elegy on the Death of Poor Odell.

EDITOR ARGUS—Sir: It is my painful duty to inform you that poor Odell is no more!—His demise took place in Beaver, Sept. 20th A. D. 1867, in his attempt to disgorge the last edition of the "Local." It was distressing to witness the poor creature how he strangled himself in his last effort to say something. He talked several times about "that Fellow at Beaver Falls," (that appeared to be upon his brain.) Then he would smatter out "Latin." We thought that he referred to that brimstone colored gentleman, and again in a spasm which we thought would choke him, he would cry out with scarce any intermition "Blasphemy" some fifty times, until he was black in the face. He would rally again for a few moments, then you could faintly hear him articulate: "W-h-a-t i-s t-h-e-u-s-e-o-f-a-r-g-u-i-n-g a g-e-o-l-o-g-i-c-a-l t-r-u-t-h w-i-t-h a m-a-n w-h-o-d-e-c-l-a-r-e-s t-h-a-t t/h-e B-i-b-l-e i-s a c-h-r-o-n-o-l-o-g-i-c-a-l o-r g-e-o-l-o-g-i-c-a-l h-o-a-x." These spasm continued until Friday morning the 20th inst., when he said something that we did not understand. We then applied two and a half grains of Bible theology, which caused his stomach to discharge and vomit out—"W-e c-a-n-n-o-t h-a-v-e a-n-y c-o-n-t-r-o-v-e-r-s-y w-i-t-h h-i-m—i-n t-h-e p-r-e-s-e-n-t c-r-o-w-d-e-d s-t-a-t-e o-f o-u-r c-o-l-u-m-n-s." Thus ended the last moments of poor Odell.

Oh! but that I had been born a Poet! I would write a poem, a funeral song, expressive of my deep felt sorrow. It should be a song of lamentation, I would say:

Odell, sure was a fated name,
Had something mystic in it,
And they have all been mark'd by fame,
Whose fate it was to wear it.

Poor Odell then of Beaver town,
The editor of the "Local,"
Who has proved himself a clown,
In science geological.

What will become of us? good lack!
The editor of the "Local,"
Has droped his tail, sneaked off, fall'n back,
From science geological.

But now he's gone, so let him go.
And all his "blasphemi s" with him,
Old Nick had ne'er his like below,
So unto himself he took him.

'Tis plain his scientific stuff
Will fill all —— with laughter.
If all his "clique" ha'nt got enough,
Just let them follow after.

Seeing that Odell is no more, I do not fee. disposed to leave the Bible in a martyred mangled condition by his hand. If he is no more, the Bible still lives, and is something more than a "book of religion and morals."

If the U. S. were governed by no other laws than those of the Bible these laws would be so complete a system that nothing could be added to it, or taken from it. The Bible contains everything needful to know, or to be done. It affords a copy for a King or a President (Deut. 17; 18) and rule for a subject, it gives instruction and council to the Senate, authority and direction for a magistrate, cautions a witness, requires an impartial verdict of Jury, and furnishes the Judge with his sentence. It sets the husband, as lord of the household, and the wife as mistress of the table, tells him how to rule, and her how to manage. It entails honor to parents, and enjoins obedience to children. It is the most compendious Book in all the world, the most authentic and the most entertaining history that was ever published. It contains the most remote antiquities, strange events, wonderful occurrences, heroic deeds, unparalleled wars. It will instruct the most accomplished mechanic and the profoundest artist. It will teach the best Rhetorician, and exercise every power of the most skillful Arithmetician, puzzle the wisest anatomist, and exercise the nicest critic, correct the vain Philosopher, and confute the vain Astronomer and Geologist, it exposes the subtle sophist. It is a complete code of laws. It is the young man's best companion and dictionary, the school-boys spelling book and the learned man's masterpiece. It contains choice grammar for a novice and profound mystery for a sage, and that which crowns all is that the author is without partiality and without hypocrisy. In whom is no variableness or shadow or turning, which is God.

Such is the Bible, and a thousand times more. I doubt whether the Local editor ever studied its sacred pages, if he had, it would have been impossible for him to come to such a conclusion:

Beaver Falls. "ECCE DEUS."

BEAVER FALLS, Sep., 23d, 1867.

MR. EDITOR: According to arrangement the Temperance campaign for Beaver county was opened at Beaver Falls on the 18th ult., by a large concourse of its citizens, assembled in the School Hall. At the appointed hour the meeting was organized by calling to the chair Mr. H. T. Reeves as President, Messrs. Thos. Ramsey, Wm. Frazier and C. W. Taylor, as Vice President's, and A. C. Thorne as Secretary.

After the singing of that beautiful Temperance song, "Unfurl your banners and fling them to the breeze" by the Choir, the audiance was entertained by able addresses by Rev D. P. Lowary, J. F. Dravo, and H. T. Reeves after which "Jonathan's visit to Boston," was sung by A. C Thorne.

By giving the above a place in your columns you will oblige

J. W. Forney on the Situation.

The editor of The Philadelphia Press writes the following letter to that paper:

In all this thick and awful gloom there is but one star to light the way—Gen. Grant is in the War Office! Our poor country, more than once dependent upon his sword, is now hanging upon his word. Whatever may have been at first thought of his accepting the portfolio of the War Office, no patriot now questions the vital importance of his presence in that Department. The Rebel enemy respects and fears him. The men who had filed millions of corrupt claims with Stanton, which that just and honest men refused to consider, found Grant as inflexible as the Minister whose great talents and victories he so frequently, and so recently said significantly, recognized. His favorite officers displaced, against his wishes, if not his protest, the attitude of Gen. Grant was never more important to his countrymen, or more unpleasant to himself. I have not seen him, and write rather from the views of others than from my own knowledge. But I have not met a Radicle who does not speak what I have here set down, and I have met our most thoughtful and conscientious friends. The destiny of the Republic has never been more completely in the hands of Gen. Grant than it is at the present moment.

If there is any remedy for the new peril, it is in the hands of the people. They, and they alone, can apply it. The surest way to precipitate hostilities, to encourage Andrew Johnson to seize the Government, force the Rebels into Congress, and declare the acts of emancipation and reconstruction unconstitutional, is to vote the Copperhead ticket in the coming elections. You will be told that this is a mere partisan's appeal to awaken your fears and to control your votes. Remember, I have never before deceived you in a grave public emergency. My countrymen, every honest heart is convulsed with a terrible anxiety, and I only echo your own solicitude by these frank words of warning. Even the Copperheads, terror-stricken at this bad man's conduct, try to shake him off, as if to get rid of a second frightful responsibility, should their efforts in supporting his policy ripen into another bloody harvest. The steps of revolution are never so rapid as when a great, free people refuse to be admonished. You refused to be warned even in this correspondence, when, six years ago last December, I told you that the Rebel foe was arming for your destruction; and it was only when the blow fell that you awoke to the dread reality. If you needed proof, not of Andrew Johnson's intentions (happily no one doubts them now), but of the fatal folly of being misled into opposition to the only party that can save the Republic, look at the paralysis that has befallen business all over the land since he has construed the elections in California and Maine into an indorsement of his plan to restore the Rebels to power! What man is mad enough to attribute the rise in gold to the Reconstruction law, when hundreds of Rebel leaders have accepted its terms, and the manumitted millions of the South, paid for their labor for the first time, are enriching their former masters, and quietly preparing for the duties of citizenship? The crisis is graver than any that has preceded it. There is not a tried soldier of the Republic who does not see and say that it is so. Last October you were aroused to frenzy at the bare imitation of what is now openly avowed. The notorious Ledger dispatch, repudiated then because it was met by one mighty outburst of indignation (but never formally denied by its author, Andrew Johnson), is now not only to be acted upon, but acted upon under the sanction of the Attorney-General, and amid the threats of Rebel agents. And the American people are not only declared to be patient in such a crisis, but said to be voting for the Copperheads, to show that the Republicans are wrong. Gold falls, business stops, credit trembles, labor stands aghast, and the monarchs of the civilized world, after admitting that we have crushed the Rebellion, may now begin to rejoice over the revival of their darling hopes! And shall it be said that the great Republican party of America have contributed to such an end; that while the enemies of progress abroad and the enemies of humanity at home are plotting, with the aid of a wicked man in the Presidential chair, Republican votes helped to the verdict against the Right, and Republican hands helped to lift that Wrong into power?

The Democratic Record.

While the despot at Washington is plotting our country's ruin, in response to the appeals of the Democratic leaders, keep your eye upon their dark and terrible records, and remember—

That they are responsible for the war which attempted the destruction of the Republic, not only because they supported John C. Breckenridge for President, but because they refused to employ the powers of the General Government under James Buchanan to enforce obedience to the laws;

That they are responsible for the prolongation of the war, not only because they steadily sympathized with the traitor enemy, but because they resisted the draft, and pronounced the national currency unconstitutional;

That if they had rallied as earnestly to the support of the Government as they rallied earnestly against it, the war would have ended in the first instead of the fourth year of its existence;

That while they are predicting universal bankruptcy, and now claiming to be the friends of the public credit, let it not be forgotten that they never subscribed a doller to the national loans, and never passed in their efforts to depreciate the national currency;

That while they are asking the votes of the soldiers of the Union, keep it in eternal remembrance that in public and in private they denounced these brave men as hirelings, and never contributed by word or deed to the great charities organized and maintained for the benefit of the defenders of the Republic;

That until they induced Andrew Johnson to turn upon his own record, to proscribe the purest patriots in the land, and to set his face against the brave soldiers who overthrew the rebellion, the national credit stood firm; but the moment, under their counsels, his desperate hand was raised against the reconstruction policy of Congress, reviving business was instantly arrested, and our national currency began to depreciate;

And fitually, that if our debt and our taxation were treble what they are, the Copperhead leaders would be responsible for both as the guilty associates of the traitors from first to last.—Phil. Press.

SOLDIERS who survived the war, vote as you fought. You braved danger and death to save the Government from destruction, and you fought bravely to put down a rebellion which the outgoing Judge of the Supreme Court (Woodward) asserted was precipitated and provoked by the people of the North, and which the Copperhead candidate for the same position (Sharswood) pronounced chivalric and holy. Vote as you fought. Vote to put down rebellion. Vote to rebuke a usurper. Vote to encourage loyalty. Vote to preserve the integrity of the Government. Vote to enforce the laws. Vote to punish traitors.—Vote to make treason odious. Vote to secure those who trusted the nation. Vote to save the Country!—Har. Tel.

CANDIDATES FOR THE CABINET.—The Washington correspondent of the New-York Times gives the following list of persons either named or now being pressed by their friends for Cabinet positions: Secretary of State—Reverdy Johnson, Charles Francis Adams, Jerry Black. Secretary of War—General Steadman, General McClellan, Judge Hughes of Indiana, ex-Senator Cowan, Tom Florence. Postmaster General—Old Blair, Young Blair, Ward Lamon, and Johnny Coyle. Secretary of the Navy—A man named Hanscom, from Boston. Secretary of the Treasury—John J. Cisco, Robert J. Walker, a Mr. Pierce, of Boston; W. H. Groesbeck, of Cincinnati. Currency Printing—Clarke. Attorney General—Binckley. If Stanbery continues indisposed.

SPECIAL NOICES.

An Extensive and Popular Dry Goods Establishment in Rochester Beaver county.

We refer to Mr. F. A. Fortune's Red Front in the Diamond, Rochester. This store having become a favorite with the citizens of Beaver county as the place to purchase Dry Goods, Notions, Trimmings, and Fancy articles, Shoes, Gaiters, Hats and Caps, Mr. Fortune concluded their patronage should not go unrewarded, and has exerted every energy, not only to satisfy the wants of the most fastidious but to make such extended improvements as to have it not only a comfort but a pleasure for the public to patronize him and purchase at the very lowest price household goods suitable for every season. Lately Mr. Fortune has made a large extension to his heretofore beautiful room, having remodeled the entire inside, the rear end being furnished with a beautiful arched ceiling speaks well for Mr. Fortune's taste in trying to make the room correspond equally with the well selected and varied stock contained therein, for the accomodation of his patrons. Persons wishing to purchase anything in the line of Dry Goods, &c., &c., &c., can do no better than to call on the obliging and affable F. A. F., of the Red Front, Rochester. Call and see him.

FALLSTON FOUNDRY!

ENGINE & REPAIR SHOP,

In Fallston Beaver County, Pa.

HAVING refitted and enlarged my stock of machinery and tools, and having secured the services of the best of mechanics, I am prepared to warrant all work done to give entire satisfaction. I have on hand different patterns and styles of Engines, Fire Clay Rolls, and am prepared to make or repair all descriptions of machinery, on reasonable terms.

PLOWS AND PLOW CASTINGS.

I have all the best plow patterns that suit this market, among which is the "Great Western," which has been the favorite plow of the county for the last fifteen years. There are five sizes of this plow, all of which I manufacture and keep for sale; also "Patent Lever"—right and left—"Mountain King,"—right and left—"Side Hill," and nearly all the different kinds in use.

COOKING, FRANKLIN AND HEATING STOVES.

Having made several important improvements on the "Climax," by which coal or wood can be supplied without lifting lids, and having two places for pipe, either or both of which can be used at the same time, with a ventilation to the oven, thus having the advantages of a Cooking Stove, Bake oven and Franklin Stove combined. This Stove has been in constant use for twenty years, and many of them after being used for this period of time, are now in good order. There is but a small portion of this stove that ever burns out, and this is easily and cheaply replaced. To make them still more lasting, we are now putting in tile or fire brick lining. Our other patterns are the Enterprise, Keystone and Premium. Parlor Stoves, large and small heating Stoves, Franklin Stoves, Jenny Lind's, &c. Grate and Grate Fronts, Fenders, Iron Railing of various styles, Wagon Boxes, two Irons, Tire Benders, Corn Shellers, Force and Cistern Pumps, Sad Irons, Metal Sinks for Kitchen, Sheet Iron and Tinware, always on hand and made to order. In fact, I manufacture and keep for sale, almost everything wanted in the machinery or hardware line.

In addition to our other Stoves, we are now making two new patters, No. 7 and 8, of the Great Republic, which are taking captive, the best cooks and housewives in the country.

Second hand stoves always for sale cheap. Two good new engines, suitable for saw-mill or shop purposes now on hand, and will be sold reasonable.
